

Database section transnational needs

This section of the database provides you an overview of the different issues which have been analysed in the document analysis. It offers you information in the categories

- country
- type of planning document
- various indexes addressed in the document, such as dimension, added value and obstacles

Preview of database

The categories are based on a wide list of key words which have been used to group and characterise the document contents.

The functionality of the database allows you to group the document contents according to the above categories and at the same time to sort the results in the different columns according to the assigned keywords. You may have a look here in the database.
